BUILDEX Vancouver is Western Canada's largest business-to-business event connecting the holistic building industry for over 30 years. By uniting architecture, engineering, construction, interior design, property management and associated professions, BUILDEX Vancouver provides a unique platform that is a driver of innovation and industry progress. Professional communities from across industry attend to connect, educate and inspire with new trends and product innovations from an industry in continual transformation.

IDS Vancouver is the premier showcase of new products, furniture, superstar designers, and avant-garde concepts from North America and beyond. Connecting talent, story, and substance, IDS Vancouver ignites design innovation, fosters discourse and celebrates tradition. Heading into its 17th year, the design fair has grown to include diverse programming and workshops, collaborative installations and engaging experiences both inside and outside the Convention Centre.

2020 was a year of change and adaptation. The gap in live events accelerated new ways to create value in the markets we serve. Informa successfully executed over 200 conferences and events virtually around the world across many industries and we look forward to putting the power of what we learned into our upcoming 2021 events.

With market-leading events, industry knowledge, trusted suppliers and a world-renowned venue partner, BUILDEX Vancouver and IDS Vancouver will bring our industries together in a safe and secure environment this fall.
